RESPONSE OF MORRISON & FOERSTER LLP TO
THE OBJECTION OF THE UNITED STATES TRUSTEE
REGARDING APPLICATIONS FOR INTERIM COMPENSATION

Morrison & Foerster LLP (“M&F”), counsel to the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) of Mesa Air Group, Inc. (“Mesa”) and certain of its direct and indirect subsidiaries in the above-captioned chapter 11 cases, as debtors and debtors in possession (collectively, the “Debtors”), by and through its undersigned counsel, hereby provides the following response and additional information (the “Response”) regarding the first interim fee application of M&F (the “Application”) [Docket No. 870] covering the period of January 13, 2010, through April 30, 2010 (the “Fee Period”), as requested in the Objection of the United States Trustee (the “US Trustee”) Regarding Applications for Interim Compensation (the “Objection”) [Docket No. 961]. In support of the Response, M&F respectfully states as follows:

¹ The Debtors are: Mesa Air Group, Inc. (2351); Mesa Air New York, Inc. (3457); Mesa In-Flight, Inc. (9110); Freedom Airlines, Inc. (9364); Mesa Airlines, Inc. (4800); MPD, Inc. (7849); Ritz Hotel Management Corp. (7688); Regional Aircraft Services, Inc. (1911); Air Midwest, Inc. (6610); Mesa Air Group Airline Inventory Management, LLC (2015); Nilchi, Inc. (5531); and Patar, Inc. (1653).

Burden of Proof

1. The applicant bears the burden of proof on its claim for compensation. See, e.g., Houlihan Lokey Howard & Zukin Capital v. High River Ltd. P'Ship, 369 B.R. 111, 115 (S.D.N.Y. 2007) (citing In re Keene Corp., 205 B.R. 690, 695 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1997)). However, “[a] party opposing a fee application must carry the burden of explaining what therein is unreasonable or, at least, what would be reasonable under the circumstances. Absent such evidence by the objectant, the opposition fails.” In re Blackwood Assocs., L.P., 165 B.R. 108, 112 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 1994). M&F submits that, except as otherwise noted herein, the Application is sufficient to establish the reasonableness of its requested compensation and expenses. Set forth below are additional disclosures and information that rebut or respond to each of the points raised in the US Trustee’s Objection.

2. The Debtors’ bankruptcy cases are complex. Unlike many other large cases commenced this year, the Debtors’ cases represent a true business reorganization. The Debtors and the Committee are challenged with the tasks of addressing the rationalization of the Debtors’ aircraft fleet, negotiation with code share agreement partners, and creating a plan structure that balances the interests of competing creditor groups with claims against different debtor entities. Because the airline industry is still economically depressed, these multi-party efforts have been exceptionally difficult. Moreover, the Committee is comprised of several different types of creditors with different roles in the Debtors’ operations. These creditors bring to the Committee process different, and sometimes contrary, perspectives on how to maximize value for creditors

3. Despite the complexity of these cases, despite the critical importance of each step in moving this restructuring forward, and despite the difficult negotiations between the Debtors and the Committee and among the important stakeholders in these cases (e.g., aircraft lessors, code share partners and other significant creditors), the number of contested Court proceedings in these cases have been minimal. Applicant respectfully submits that these undercurrents have been kept well below the surface in great measure because of the tireless dedication and effort s of the Debtors, the Committee, and their respective professionals.

4. In fact, and again despite the absence of contested hearings in these cases, the number and level of discussions, negotiations, analysis, and case developments have required weekly telephonic meetings of the Committee nearly every week since the formation of the Committee. Depending upon the matters to be discussed, the Debtors' have participated in the Committee meetings in order to respond to questions and concerns raised by the Committee on important issues. By keeping the Committee informed of developments and seeking direction from the Committee during the weekly Committee meetings, the Committee's professionals have been in a position to share the Committee's views with the Debtors and other parties-in-interest, which has served to avoid unnecessary disputes in these cases.

General Responses

5. M&F notes that as part of its efforts to minimize the costs to the Debtors' estates, M&F has staffed the matter as efficiently as possible, as described in greater detail below. Moreover, M&F believes that all time billed to the matter provided a direct benefit to the Debtors' unsecured creditors and the Debtors' estates in that it was incurred in the furtherance of the Committee's fiduciary obligations pursuant to sections 1102 and 1103 of the Bankruptcy Code. Further, as set forth in the Application, partners Brett Miller and Lorenzo Marinuzzi have each agreed to reduce their standard hourly rates for this engagement, which has resulted in savings to the estates of no less than $21,795.00 through the Fee Period alone.

6. M&F believes that, with the exception of an erroneous time entry and certain expenses described below, its requested compensation and expenses are reasonable and appropriate. Nevertheless, in the interest of avoiding the unnecessary expense and delay for the Debtors' estates that would be incurred if M&F were to engage in a detailed review and analysis of the backup documentation relating to the requested fees and expenses that are cited in the Objection, M&F is willing to reduce its requested fees and expenses by an additional aggregate amount of $25,000.00, as set forth in more detail below.²

Specific Responses

7. With respect to instances in which multiple professionals from M&F participated in telephone conferences or meetings as identified in paragraph 84 of the Objection, such participation was necessary to coordinate the actions of the participating professionals in a timely and efficient manner.³ M&F staffed the matter as leanly as practicable, with a partner, a senior associate, and two junior associates handling the bulk of the work. Rather than being duplicative, each party's participation on the call or at the meeting enabled M&F to be responsive and cost-effective.

8. A copy of the agenda (without exhibits) for each of the calls and meetings identified by the US Trustee is attached as Exhibit A. As even a cursory review of these agendas makes clear, any given call or meeting touched on a wide variety of topics, including litigation issues, plan issues (including exclusivity, and management compensation and incentive arrangements), negotiations with creditors and code share partners, fleet restructuring issues, negotiation of confidentiality agreements, and updates regarding hearings and pending motions.

² To the extent the proposed reductions are not acceptable to the US Trustee, M&F reserves its right to contest any additional reductions recommended by the US Trustee at the hearing to approve the Application.

³ The Objection (at par. 85) requests a reduction of $25,000 for participation in these meetings.

As disclosed in the Affidavit of Brett H. Miller (the “Miller Affidavit”) filed contemporaneously with M&F’s retention application [Docket No. 204], “[t]o the fullest extent possible, attorneys having the requisite expertise who already have knowledge with respect to these areas and/or the matters involved will be assigned to these cases so that duplication of effort is avoided.” Miller Affidavit, ¶ 8.

9. As the partner managing the overall representation, Brett Miller participated on calls in the event a final decision regarding strategy or a legal determination was necessary. Partner Stefan Engelhart and associate Leah Fletcher provided the Committee with expertise regarding complex litigation in connection with the pending litigation between the Debtors and Delta Air Lines, Inc. (“Delta”), and only one of them participated on each of the calls or at meetings to address any Committee concerns or questions that might arise regarding such litigation. Lorenzo Marinuzzi and Todd Goren managed the day-to-day negotiations and handled those tasks that required substantial experience, including negotiating and drafting confidentiality agreements and pleadings, and acting as liaison for the Committee with various parties in interest regarding significant legal issues. Erica Richards and Stephen Koshgerian, each junior associates, were responsible for carrying out various day-to-day tasks required during the course of M&F’s representation of the Committee, including conducting legal research, preparing initial drafts of pleadings, revising documents as agreed upon during calls or meetings, and preparing agendas and minutes with respect to each call or meeting.

10. Each individual participated in meetings and conference calls only to the extent that the meeting or call directly concerned a task assigned to the individual to allow the Committee to obtain real-time responses to their questions and follow-up projects to be coordinated on a contemporaneous basis. To have required a later download of the information from those who had participated would have been terribly inefficient and would likely have cost the estate even more than the amounts that were billed by M&F. Further, because professionals prepared for and participated in meetings only to the extent their presence was necessary, the amount of time spent by each professional varied, as these professionals did not participate for the entirety of a meeting. These varying time entries are indicative of M&F's attempt to minimize unnecessary expenses to the Debtors' estates, and do not reflect inaccurate or inappropriate time keeping by professionals, as the US Trustee seems to suggest.⁴ Nonetheless, in response to the US Trustee's concerns, M&F is willing to forego a portion of its fees incurred in connection with the participation of multiple attorneys at Committee calls and meetings, and suggests a reduction of $8,343.00, an amount equal to the fees incurred by the most junior attorney participating in each call or meeting.

11. With respect to the US Trustee's objection to the preparation of summaries noted in paragraph 86 of the Objection,⁵ the preparation of such summaries described in the time entries were prepared for the benefit of the Committee members and involved a degree of analysis and judgment that required an attorney's expertise and authority. As such, the summaries could not reasonably have been prepared by a paralegal. Further, in order to minimize the cost to the Debtors' estates, M&F assigned preparation of the summaries to Stephen Koshgerian as the attorney staffed on this matter with the lowest hourly billing rate. The summaries were included in the weekly agendas circulated to the Committee in advance of each call. In an effort to keep Committee calls as efficient as possible, pending motions were generally brought to the Committee's attention in the form of a brief oral discussion, with the majority of the details provided only via the summaries. Thus, the summaries formed a critical component of M&F's obligation to keep the Committee informed of developments in the Debtors' cases. Further, although other attorneys on the case routinely reviewed the underlying pleadings in connection with their roles in the representation, the preparation of summaries by these attorneys would have taken a significant amount of additional time, and would have been done at a higher billing rate. Accordingly, M&F believes that the amounts charged for Mr. Koshgerians's review of the pleadings and preparation of the summaries are reasonable and appropriate.

⁵ The US Trustee requests a reduction in the amount of $7,500 in the fees sought in connection with preparation of these summaries.

12. With respect to the reimbursement of $2,300 in travel expenses noted in paragraph 91 of the Objection, the majority of the expenses were incurred in connection with the Committee's coverage of the Debtors' litigation with Delta in Atlanta, Georgia on April 20, 2010, through April 23, 2010. M&F submits that its attendance at the trial by Leah Fletcher, an associate in the litigation department, was necessary in light of the critical nature the outcome of the trial on the Debtors' future operations and to enable the Committee to consider a potential settlement of the United dispute were one to be proposed. A summary of those travel expenses, together with copies of the relevant backup documentation, is attached hereto as Exhibit B. In particular, the $449 "airline change fee" identified by the US Trustee actually represents a $150 airline change fee, plus an additional $292.00 difference in ticket price between the original ticket and the new ticket, both economy class. The change in tickets was necessary because the trial lasted longer than originally anticipated. Nonetheless, MoFo will waive the airline change fee as an accommodation to the US Trustee. The hotel expenses were incurred at a rate of $179.95 per night, a rate that M&F believes is reasonable for accommodations in downtown Atlanta. The remaining travel expenses incurred during the Fee Period and totaling $410.55, represent thirteen invoices for cab, train, car service, or ferry fares or parking fees, each incurred in connection with attendance at in-person Committee meetings or travel from the office after hours in accordance with M&F's standard expense policies when such hours were absolutely required due to time constraints. Backup documentation for these additional travel charges is available upon request. In each case, M&F submits that the rate charged was reasonable and the travel to which it relates was necessary, and that such expense has been submitted for reimbursement at cost. Accordingly, M&F believes that the amounts charged for reimbursement of travel expenses are reasonable and appropriate and should be allowed in their entirety, excluding the waived "airline change fee" totaling $449.

13. With respect to time entries which the US Trustee has identified as overly vague in paragraph 87 of the Objection, M&F is unable to fully respond because it is unable to determine the date or timekeepers responsible for the entries set forth in the Objection. The US Trustee fails to meet its burden of proof on this point.⁶ "[An] objector must, at some point, identify any allegedly improper, insufficient, or excessive entries and direct the Court's attention to them." In re Blackwood Assocs., L.P., 165 B.R. 108, 112 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 1994) (citing In re Hunt's Health Care, Inc., 161 Bankr. 971, 982 (Bankr. N.D. Ind. 1993)). Further, M&F respectfully suggests that if these entries were reviewed in the context of surrounding time entries (including in particular reference to the project code under which the entry is found), no further detail would be required. In fact, providing further detail, even with respect to some of the entries cited by the US Trustee as deficient, runs the risk of revealing confidential information.⁷ Nonetheless, M&F is willing to forego its fees in the interest of saving the estates

⁶ The US Trustee requests in Par. 87 of her Objection a reduction of $7,500 in compensation for vague time entries.

⁷ The US Trustee citers as an example of vague time entries - "Meeting w/ Pachulski, Imperial and Macquarie regarding general case issues (3.3)." Objection, ¶ 87. Applicant respectfully believes that such a time entry, in the context of the time records submitted, is sufficient to permit the reviewer to determine whether the time expended the expense that would be incurred in trying to provide a more detailed description by engaging in a detailed and time consuming review and analysis of the original time entries, and suggests that the US Trustee's proposed reduction of $7,500.00 is acceptable.

14. With respect to the time entries identified in paragraph 88 of the Objection, M&F agrees that they appear to be duplicative. M&F agrees with the US Trustee's proposed reduction of $2,100.00.

15. The expense of $690.90 for photocopying charges incurred with respect to the Fee Period, as identified in paragraph 90 of the Report, represents 3,290 photocopies. Accordingly, M&F agrees that a reduction of $361.90 to $329, reflecting an at-cost charge of $0.10 per page, is appropriate.

Conclusion

16. In light of the points made above, M&F submits that an aggregate reduction of $25,000.00⁸—which is greater than the sum of the fees and expenses detailed in the previous section—is appropriate, particularly in light of the voluntary $21,795.00 fee reduction already taken by M&F. Accordingly, M&F proposes to seek final compensation for the Fee Period in the amount of $685,352.90, and reimbursement for expenses for the Fee Period in the amount of $8,797.52.⁹

for a meeting with the Debtors' legal and financial advisors on general case matters is reasonable. In a case as large as this, with the numerous motions, complex aircraft claim settlements, Section 1110 stipulations and negotiations, code-share litigation, employee bonus requests and other matters specifically listed in Applicant's other time entries and on the case docket, there are more than enough general case issues to discuss in a three hour meeting. .

⁸ The $25,000 is comprised of $24,189.10 in fees and $810.90 in expenses.

⁹ The US Trustee also proposes that allowed compensation remain subject to holdbacks pending final resolution of the Debtors cases. Objection, ¶ 37. However, according to the Debtors' most recent monthly operating report dated as of July 31, 2010, the Debtors had more than $53 million in unencumbered cash on hand. [Dkt. No. 1006]. In the absence of a risk of administrative insolvency, Applicant respectfully submits that there is no need to withhold the payment of fees (that have already been held back for many months) that would otherwise be payable under the interim compensation order already approved by the Court. [Dkt. No. 181].

WHEREFORE, M&F respectfully requests that the Court enter an order (a) approving interim compensation in the sum of $685,352.90 and interim reimbursement of expenses in the sum of $8,797.522, and directing prompt payment of all compensation and expenses not previously paid, and (b) granting to M&F such other and further relief as the Court may deem proper.
